CBF field personnel reach out to forgotten, overlooked in India

By Celeste Pennington and Patricia Heys
CBF Communications

ATLANTA – Eddie and Macarena Aldape remember vividly their first encounter with Nythia, a survivor of the tsunami. She was malnourished, weakened by tuberculosis, and troubled with a skin disorder – scabies. Once, as she sat with Macarena, the little girl cried and scratched until she was covered in blood.

Local villagers counseled Nythia's parents to accept her fate, advice in line with prevailing social mores and the Hindu faith. But the Aldapes befriended Nythia and her family, and with the family's blessing, located a skin specialist. They took Nythia and her mother to the city of Pune, where she was admitted to the hospital. Over time, Nythia improved and returned to her village. When the people saw her, Eddie said, "No one could believe their eyes."

The Aldapes, Cooperative Baptist Fellowship Global Missions field personnel, work in India with tsunami survivors, Banjara Gypsies, and other marginalized peoples. The Aldapes' ministry in India, along with the ministries of CBF field personnel around the world, is directly supported by the monetary contributions to the CBF Offering for Global Missions.

Resources for Advent and Lent

Advent

This resource was developed by Passport Inc.

Lent

The Baptist Center for Ethics and the Baptist World Alliance are partnering to produce a free Lenten Bible study curriculum unit to help global Baptists on their forty-day walk toward Easter. "Lent is a time of reflection, repentance, and renewing our faith. It's also a time for Baptists in wealthy and powerful communities to remember their Baptist kin who suffer from poverty, injustice, and violence," said Robert Parham, BCE's executive director.

This eight-week Bible study, designed for Sunday school, will guide adults through the season of Lent with special emphasis on the witness and work of global Baptists. Student and leader guides will be available online at www.ethicsdaily.com by January 22. The first lesson is designed to be used on February 18. Read more about it here.

Now Serving Atlanta
McAfee School of Theology,

Baptist Women in Ministry invites all churches to participate in the first annual Martha Stearns Marshall Day of Preaching. On the first Sunday of February each year, we will join together to celebrate hearing the voices of women as they preach in pulpits across the United States. As more women enter the ministry, churches have a greater opportunity to welcome them into their pulpits.

The Martha Stearns Marshall Day of Preaching will give churches an opportunity to do so while at the same time educating their congregations about women in ministry. Churches wanting to participate this year on February 4, 2007, can do so by inviting a woman from their church staff, their congregation, or their community to preach. Churches might also choose to contact a nearby seminary and invite a female professor or student to preach. In January, participating churches will be able to find a certificate on the BWIM website that they can present to their female preachers on the Martha Stearns Marshall Day of Preaching.

BWIM would like to recognize those churches that choose to participate. Please send your church name and the name of your guest preacher to Ruth Perkins Lee at 128 E Glenn Ave, Auburn, AL 36830 or ruthperkinslee@bellsouth.net. All participating churches and preachers will be included in the Spring Issue of Vocare.

Area Networks

Several months ago CBF/GA issued a call for local churches to send us the name(s) of individuals who would serve as representatives of their church(es) at our area network meetings. To be honest the response has been a bit slow. As most of you know we have twelve area networks planned. You can see the area map on our web site at www.cbfga.org. This map was developed a number of years ago and was based on recommendations made by our membership.

In 2007 we will have a series of meetings throughout the state based on this map. Some of the meetings will be at churches, some in homes, and some in restaurants where a meeting room is available. If you are interested in hosting such a meeting in your area, let me know.

At these meetings we will deal with a variety of issues that relate to the local congregation and to the larger CBF/GA family. Specific issues such as reference and referral, missions, and congregational life will be discussed. Area wide events designed to strengthen local congregations and to promote fellowship between congregations will be of primary concern.

Mission Opportunities

Christmas Gifts for Soldiers

The 352nd CSB from Macon, GA, is spending Christmas in Iraq. If you would like to support a Soldier by sending a Christmas gift, the Chaplain on location will distribute it for you.

His address is:
Chaplain Mark Cisco
Christmas Gift for 352 Soldiers
352 CSB, Chaplain's Office
APO AE 09334

A few suggestions are movies, books, games, personal hygiene items, etc. They do not need clothing items and we do not suggest you send home baked goods.

This unit has good relations with the people in Mosul and will do a second school supply donation to a local school early next year. If you don't get around to sending something for Christmas, please think about sending school supplies in January. A few suggestions are paper, notebooks, pens, pencils, art material, etc. The soldiers recently gave out supplies to 1300 children and it was a real blessing.
