June 1999-May 2000 Church Contributions to CBF of Georgia

In fiscal year 1999-2000, 76 churches participated in giving to CBF of Georgia. So you may celebrate your church's participation in the CBF of Georgia ministry, contributing churches are listed at left.

The list is not an attempt to identify each church as a "CBF of Georgia church." It includes churches that:

- (1) sent money to National CBF and requested a portion forwarded to CBF of Georgia,
- (2) sent money directly to the CBF of Georgia through their budget, or
- (3) sent money directly to CBF of Georgia because they allow individual members to designate offerings to various causes, including CBF of Georgia.

Only churches that budgeted or channeled gifts to CBF of Georgia through their bank accounts are listed here. Individuals who sent their gifts personally to CBF of Georgia are not included; neither are churches that sent gifts only to National CBF.

How can I/we contribute to CBF of Georgia?

THROUGH YOUR CHURCH

- Your church may send a check to National CBF with a note requesting that a certain amount or percentage be forwarded to Georgia CBF.
- Your church may send a check to Georgia CBF with a note requesting that a certain amount or percentage be forwarded to National CBF.

DIRECTLY

- You may send your personal check directly to Georgia CBF.

from the Moderator

CBF supporters have made a statement in Georgia. We have made CBF of Georgia our place of service and ministry. Everywhere I go, I hear people talk about CBF of Georgia and the good things we are doing. I see them sending their children to camp in the summer. I see them enthusiastically sending almost 400 youth to March Mission Madness. I see them coming to the wonderful CBF meetings all around Georgia. And I hear them talking about what a bright future they see for CBF, especially in light of the recent events in the SBC. We talk.

You've heard the phrase, "Put your money where your mouth is." Church budget planning time is the perfect time to make this a reality for the support of CBF of Georgia. We had 76 churches giving to CBF of Georgia in the 1999 - 2000 fiscal year. Out of those, 12 churches gave 57% of the budget. Several of our churches are giving well. Most of our churches could do better.

What are you getting for your money? You are seeing ministry and missions done all over the state. You are seeing children being told of God's love and mission through children's camp. You are seeing the youth of your church find themselves and God in an atmosphere where all people are accepted and celebrated. You are seeing students being sent all over the world to do missions.

You will see new church starts in areas of great need in our state. You will see area networks for worship and fellowship throughout the state. You will see seminary students with new directions in their lives because they have scholarships to help in a financial crisis.

You will see seminary graduates anxious to serve Christ in your church because of the work of CBF of Georgia. And you will continue to enjoy meetings in all areas of our state during the fall and spring, meetings you will be proud to bring your congregation to, meetings where missions are a focus and Christ is the center of worship and celebration.

It is time we stood up and started putting our money where our mouth is. It's time we started supporting this organization and its mission. I ask you to go to your finance committee and tell the CBF story. We have a great story of love, acceptance, mission and ministry. We must continue to tell our story.

CBF Georgia Moderator

Frankly speaking

Somebody needs to say it. The General Assembly meeting in Orlando was great. National CBF and the CBF of Florida need to be congratulated.

They did a fine job putting the assembly together. It was indeed family-friendly. The bar has been raised a little higher for all of us.

That brings us to 2001. The General Assembly is scheduled for June 28-30 at the Georgia World Congress Center in Atlanta. This will be the official tenth anniversary of CBF. The CBF of GA will have a substantial role in making this event work.

I need for you to put this on your calendar now. It is important that we make a statement by being present at the meeting. Many predicted that CBF would not last this long. Several months ago, a prominent Georgia Baptist Convention leader predicted we would not be around another five years. What better way to respond to such statements than to show up in record numbers. If you can do nothing else for CBF this year, do this.

The General Assembly is planned and coordinated by a National Steering Committee. It will have a minimum of nine and a maximum of 12 members, plus up to four ex officio members. As your Coordinator I will serve as an ex officio member of the committee. We will also have a committee from the CBF of Georgia charged with the responsibility of assisting the National Steering Committee.

We want to be of service any way we can. I know you, and I have every reason to believe we can make this a wonderful time of celebration and fellowship. If you or your church want to help with the Assembly, let me know. There will be plenty of opportunities to serve. The National Steering Committee will take the lead; we must be ready and willing to follow.

I will be creating an e-mail list related to the General Assembly. If you want to get special bulletins from time to time, send me an e-mail to that effect and I will add your address to my list.

march MISSION madness 2000

Madness is what we asked for, and madness is what we got! This March 17-18, CBF of Georgia sponsored its fourth annual March Mission Madness. Over 360 youth and their leaders from 28 Georgia churches participated in this year's event at Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist Church in Atlanta.

Although we laughed, played, and worshiped, the primary focus of the weekend was community missions.

Saturday morning, participants packed their vans with tools and headed out into the Atlanta community for a full day of service. The youth and their leaders worked on-site with the following community service organizations:

- Dixie Hills Neighborhood Association
- Big Trees Forest Preserve
- Park Pride
- St. Vincent DePaul Clothes Line
- Atlanta Community Food Bank

- Our House
- South Fulton Senior Services

Brian Dixon, a youth volunteer from Oakhurst Baptist Church said, "Our youth really enjoyed the mission projects and they are already anxious to return next year!"

All in all, over 1,750 community service hours were earned over the weekend! In addition, the participating churches collected over 50 bags of clothes and donated 300 lbs. of food to the Atlanta Community Food Bank!

"I had so much fun getting closer to God and meeting people this weekend," said Terrie Bechdol, a 14-year-old youth from First Baptist Church of Decatur, "I will definitely be back next year!"

Thank you, March Mission Madness participants, for your hard work and energy that made a lifelong difference in the lives of the community. All of you made the weekend a fun and unique memory that the community will never forget!
